VISUAL SCRIPTING

Coding is one of the hardest things for some persons but if you want to make great games there is actually ways.

Yes, these are the Visual scripting systems.

But what are they you ask? well, they are like scripting but in a visual way making nodes in an organized flow of working.

Some of these are Blueprints from Unreal or Bolt from Unity.

but remember. The visual scripting Systems helps a lot but is stil script and you need to know the coding logic if you want to use them.

STARTING YOUR JOURNEY

you may feel a little unsure of how to start.

what program to use?

what to buy?

what to learn?

but that is normal when you are starting in anything, and to help a little with all this questions we made a little guide for beginers

STORY

In able to create a memorable experience you will have to come up with a good story, and your style or way of making a story may be different than others persons way.

You could make a simple but deep story or maybe a complicate one that make you think about everything.

If you are interested in put in paper your ideas we have some tips that may help you with that.

If you want to draw on the go or just like something that doesn't require any extra device for use, this may be a perfect option for you. But there are some things that you have to know, first the price, they are not cheap, the most popular of these tablets is the Ipad and second, they don't have the same softwares for draw that you find on your PC.

For anyone interested in the music production this is some of the things that you may need.

We are sure that there are just too many options out there and if you don't have enough budget, we recommend get the one that you can afford from a well known brand may be SONY, JBL, BOSE etc.
But if you are looking for the best music experience without much trouble then we have an option for you.

Just like the headphones we recommend that the best one for your budget is the one that you can afford from any well known brand, but remember in microfones there are different types depending on what do you want to record and if you don't have a quiet place to record we also recommend buying something to isolate the sound in the room.
Like the headphones we have a favorite microfone and is the one we recommend if you are just looking for something good without looking at the price
